

I strongly value the personal service provided by my ISP, Sonic.net.
When I have had a problem, in a quick phone call a real person is right there to help and walk me through to a solution. Sonic cares and provides this personal service, not just voice mail hell and hold.